	The Ghoul of Windydown Vale (paperback) Copper Inskeep holds Windydown Vale's deepest and darkest secret: he is the ghou that haunts the Vale, donning a gruesome costume to scare travelers and townsfolk away from the dangers of the surrounding swamps. When a terrified girl claims she and her father were attacked by a creature - one that could not have been Copper - it threatens not just Copper's secret, but the fate of all Windydown in The Ghoul of Windydown Vale .	$9.50
	Cleo Porter and the Body Electric (paperback) Like everyone else, twelve-year-old Cleo and her parents are sealed in an apartment without windows or doors. Their food is dropped off by drones. So they're safe. Thus, when they receive a package clearly meant for someone else--a package containing a substance critical for a stranger's survival--Cleo is stuck. As a surgeon-in-training, she knows the clock is ticking. A woman is dying. Cleo Porter has her medicine. And no way to deliver it.	$8.50
	The Tornado (paperback) For Bell Kirby, school is about sketching and avoiding a bully who happens to be the principal's son, until new student Daelynn arrives and turns everything upside-down. "Spot-on sixth-grade humor and sympathetic characters will hook readers as he explores fame and friendship in the age of social media." — Publishers Weekly	$12.15
	The Right Hook of Devin Velma (paperback) Devin wants to hit it big on the internet by pulling a stunt at an NBA game--one the entire nation will be watching. Addison can't turn Devin down, but he can barely manage talking to his teachers without freezing up. How's he supposed to handle the possibility of being a viral sensation? Jake Burt's The Right Hook of Devin Velma is a one-of-kind knockout in middle-grade fiction.	$16.00
	Greetings from Witness Protection! (paperback) A funny and poignant debut novel about a foster-care girl who is placed with a family in the witness protection program and finds that hiding in plain sight is complicated and dangerous.	$9.50
