VISUAL ARTS FRAMEWORK

JUNE 2010

VISUAL ARTS PHILOSOPHY

The Brookfield District Arts program provides sequential learning, K-12, in the visual arts. We facilitate life-long learning by reaching all students in order to develop a visual language emphasizing art concepts. Our goals are to teach art elements and technology as a means to express and communicate ideas; to train students to recognize cultural and historic relationships; to instruct the students in the concepts of aesthetics; to expand problem solving and creative thinking skills; to sharpen fine motor skills with individual mastery of processes for creating art; and to provide opportunity to succeed through individual and collaborative projects related to their lives.

VISUAL ARTS PROGRAM GOALS

- 1. Students encounter sequential learning experiences in the visual arts in grades K -12 which could lead to a career in art and/or a higher education in art
- 2. Students understand and personally master, through hard work and persistence, processes for creating art including media, techniques and technology
- Students develop a visual language through the use of art concepts: the elements and principles of art, cultural and historic relationships, experiences, aesthetic theory and interdisciplinary connections
- 4. Students broaden their problem solving skills by formulating multiple solutions to art problems
