

Brookfield High School School Counseling News

June 1, 2019

Dear BHS Students and Families,

The year is coming to a close. Summer is an exciting time of year that brings opportunities to relax, reconnect with friends and family and spend time exploring interests.

As you look ahead to summer plans, consider the resources shared in this newsletter as opportunities for continued learning.

We wish you well through this summer and look forward to next school year!

Seniors:

Congratulations on your accomplishments!

Reference the email Mrs. Gioglio sent regarding important senior tasks to complete including: completing the Senior Survey, updating the results for all schools you applied to in Naviance, and setting your attending school so that your final transcript can be sent.

Seniors have been reflecting on perceived area of need post-high school such as:

- Choosing classes/mapping out a plan
- Getting involved/making friends
- Transitioning to life away from home
- Managing stress and negative emotions
- Balancing time commitments/academic/athletics

Juniors

Senior year will be here before you know it, take some time this summer to prepare!

Visit colleges/universities or other postsecondary institutions of interest to you.

While researching and reading about schools can be helpful, nothing takes the place of actually setting foot on a campus. Check out the "Campus Visit Guide" on CollegeBoard to better prepare for college visits.

If you are planning to pursue postsecondary education, generate a list of schools to which you will apply.

Check out this article for tips for choosing the best schools for you.

Draft and revise your college essay.

Many of you started working on this assignment in your English classes, so spend some time reviewing and revising your essay this summer. Make sure that the content of your essay adds something to your application. Think about all of the other information that will be included in your application--GPA, coursework, standardized test scores, extracurricular activities, letters of recommendation, etc. What's missing from that picture? What would you like an admissions officer to know about you that doesn't come across in any of that other information? Choose a topic that will give a better and more complete picture of who you are as a person.

Sophomores

Resume Development

This year the counselors worked with you to develop a resume on Naviance that highlighted all of your activities and achievements in high school thus far. Continue to update this document as you continue involvement with extracurriculars and community service, partake in new activities, or earn new accolades.

Freshmen

Extracurricular Involvement & Community Service

On our senior survey, we asked seniors what advice they wished to impart to underclassmen. Many students encouraged underclassmen to get involved in activities outside of the classroom, saying things like "Get involved in an activity that you love" and "Do meaningful volunteer work."

Consider getting involved in some type of activity or community service this summer. If you are looking for ideas for volunteer service opportunities, reference the Community Service Handbook on our website that was reviewed in your Flex A class this year.

Have a great summer!

UConn First Summer

UConn First Summer is an exciting summer opportunity designed for all incoming freshmen and transfer students who will be starting at UConn in the fall. This intensive five-week program was created to give interested admitted students a strong jump start to both their coursework and the UConn experience.*

Are you graduating from high school this spring? UConn First Summer will help with the transition to college by offering a jump start to your academic career. It will also provide you with the opportunity to explore the main campus and surrounding communities and to gain skills for college success.

*This optional program is open to incoming freshmen and transfer students admitted to any of UConn's five campuses. However, this program runs as an independent summer program and does not alter any aspect of your fall admissions status, including your admission campus or any scholarship/financial aid decisions. Financial awards for fall semester do not guarantee any financial support for the First Summer program.

It is required that participants be available for the full five weeks of the program for which they are registered. There is a required opening Welcome Reception and full program meeting Sunday, July 14th.
